

About Kim Olson

Kim's background as an educator and non-profit administrator brings multi-faceted experience to her role as Operations Associate at KSC. Her 15 years of teaching experience and work for the Ashland Gallery Association has prepared her well for the varied responsibilities of this position. She has been involved in many projects, including curriculum and grant writing, fundraising, special event planning, curating art exhibits, and marketing. Kim has volunteered her time as a tutor to migrant farm worker children, student art exhibits, and as a reader to the residents of a retirement facility.

Kim has lived in the Rogue Valley for over 30 years and is lucky to have much of her family residing here. She has two grown daughters and four grandchildren spread around southern Oregon. Her favorite pastimes are spent out in nature, whether on a hike with her little dog, "Ricky" or camping with family and friends. She enjoys exploring new places and finding the beauty in the simplest things. She has an appreciation for the visual arts, and dabbles in various art forms, most recently sketching things she finds in the natural world.
